

LOSES THE SUIT AGAINST FATHER

Wife of Ernest Thompson Seaton Wanted $10,000 on Old Agreement.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Grace Gallatin Seaton, wife of Ernest Thompson Seaton, the nature writer, lost her suit yesterday against her father, Albert Gallatin, for $10,000. The story of the suit is peculiar. Mr. Gallatin, who was a merchant of Sacramento, was divorced from Grace's mother in 1881. He agreed then to pay her $10,000 for her maintenance until she became eighteen, and then to give her $10,000. When the girl came of age, her father asked her to permit him to pay her interest on this sum till he should be in better financial circumstances.

A JAPANESE BALL.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
AUSTINVILLE, Va., July 30.—The home of Captain and Mrs. Jno. C. Raper, in Smyth county, was last night the scene of one of the most delightful social events of the season, the occasion being a Japanese ball given by Miss Hazel Raper at the close of a house party given by her for the last ten days.

There were present about one hundred guests and the entire management of this novel entertainment was directed by Mr. Sankusa, of Tokio, Japan, a distinguished citizen of Japan, now visiting in America.

The costumes were elegant Oriental patterns and gave charm and beauty to the occasion that the time being carried the spectator to the realm of the Mikado. The new figures that were introduced and greatly diversified programme was so successfully conducted that the most earnest devotee of the modern German for the time forgot the delight of that greatest American amusement.

One of the many pleasing diversions was the elegant supper served at midnight on the spacious lawn under the gleam of hundreds of Japanese lanterns and the silver gleam of myriad stars.

Many a heart was glad, and it was with the greatest reluctance that the joyous dancers kissed a sweet good night to the rising sun.

The following were present: Kasalusa san; Oyaki san, Miss Hazel Raper; Goro san, Mr. Robert Graham; Osgichi san, Miss Almeda Kunkel; Jiro san, Mr. J. Ellis Dickerson; Kokonyo, Miss Mary Hanna; Mitsunori, Mr. Joseph Campbell; Oyaki san, Miss Susie Brown; Kayuya, Mr. Richard Kinkie; Suvekihi, Mr. Jack Raper; Hioye, Miss Dora Blair.

TOWN OF WAVERLY PRETTILY REBUILT

Arises From the Late disastrous Fire With Renewed Vigor.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WAVERLY, Va., July 30.—A word about the growing town of Waverly. The business district of the town was completely blotted out on the 17th day of May, last, by a most destructive fire. To-day in place of, and in addition to the buildings so destroyed, six large brick stores are in course of erection, or under contract, as follows: Doctor May's handsome two story brick, The P. Fiedwood Company's mammoth general department store, the Waverly Furniture and Carpet Company's brick building, J. E. Fanny's very handsome brick building for millinery and ladies furnishings, The Bank of Waverly, Carpenter and Camp, large general store and cigar factory, and the Waverly Grammar, large grocery store. In addition to these brick structures, there are the two very large stores (wood) of George A. Harrison, a capitalist, who has recently moved to town, and R. D. Norris, who has a very large department store, and the very complete family grocery of J. B. Hancock. In addition to the mercantile houses named there are several other thriving enterprises such as the large cannery factory, the large peanut factory, with two very large buildings, thoroughly equipped with machinery for cleaning peanuts; A. H. Mayfield's extensive machine shop and wagon factory, and a substantial newspaper plant (the Sussex Standard), which has a large circulation. A second bank is being organized, with $20,000 capital which is expected to be in operation during the fall.

Real estate is in active demand, several having recently been sold. J. E. Wilcox, of Surry county, is about to commence the erection of a handsome modern residence on Copperhook Avenue, a fashionable residential street. Doctor May, of Prince George county, and Mr. Otis Fitchett, will soon erect handsome residences for their families in "Ghent," a fashionable street. The Honorable C. S. Parson, has just completed two very handsome residences in "Ghent" for himself and son, and several other outsiders are figuring on lots with the view of removing their families to town, among them the Messrs. Gray, Brothars, and own one of the largest lumber plants in eastern Virginia. They will not only come here to live, but will, in a short time, bring their extensive plant here, and along with it, several hundred employees.

THE POISON DID ITS DEADLY WORK

Miss Janie Rexrode Dies as the Result of Taking Murriatic Acid.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
MONTEREY, Va., July 30.—Miss Janie Rexrode, the unfortunate young woman who, on last Monday, attempted suicide at the home of Mrs. S. W. Crumhuff, died this morning at 7 o'clock. Of several old visits of medicine brought with her from home, she designated one from which she had taken a dose. The labels and all directions had been scratched off, but the bottle designated contained muriatic acid and not medicine, as she had been told. She had taken a quantity taken, as she drank from the bottle. Miss Rexrode, while acting in the capacity of housekeeper, was the twenty-six-year old daughter of the late Daniel Rexrode, a prosperous young farmer of eastern Highland, and was held in high esteem for her competence. Since her treatment, eight years ago, at the Western State Hospital, she has evinced no evidence of a return of her mental trouble, and it was believed by her friends that she had fully recovered. Her remains were taken to Palo Alto, Va., for interment, her faithful sister, Miss Lillie Rexrode, who attended her since the sad occurrence, accompanying them. Another sister, Mrs. H. H. Botkin, survives her.
